Bishop Paiute Tribe's New Public Safety Officer—Deston Rogers

We're on the web!
www.bishoppaiutetribes.com

I would like to take this opportunity to re-introduce myself to the Bishop Paiute Tribal Community. My parents are Gaillen "Buz" Rogers and Mary Anderson (Seymour), I'm a member of the Bishop Paiute Tribe and graduated BUHS in 1984. I have spent time in the US Navy serving aboard the US Submarine, USS Pogy. I have 7 years of law enforcement experience; 5 1/2 years in Utah and 1 1/2 years serving in Iraq as an International Police Advisor to the Iraqi Police Forces, a Team Leader for other Police Advisors and as a Regional Operations Officer. I welcome this opportunity to return home and, now, serve you. My initial goal is to become a viable liaison between the Tribal community and Local, State and Federal law enforcement agencies, and enforce the Tribal Ordinances handled by the Tribal Court. Under Public Law 280, criminal matters, (i.e. assaults, thefts, burglaries, etc.) are handled by the Inyo County Sheriff's Department. Remember if you have an immediate emergency to always dial 911.

Again I look forward to serving the Tribal community and welcome the opportunity to meet with the Tribal members and discuss concerns you may have. Please feel free to contact me at 760-873-4477 (Office), 760-937-3688 (Cell) or by email at deston.rogers@bishoppaiute.org.

NEWS FROM THE COURT

BY JOYCE ALVEY, COURT CLERK

LAY ADVOCATE TRAINING

The Bishop Tribal Court and Washoe Tribal Court hosted a Lay Advocate Training in Bishop, CA, on November 1, 2 & 3, 2010. The training was sponsored by The Bishop Paiute Tribal Court, Washoe Tribal Court, California Indian Legal Services (CILS), UCLA Tribal Learning Community & Education Exchange (TLCEE) and The Nakwatswevat Institute (TNI). Planning for this training started back in July 2010, via conference calls. Considering the physical distance between all the planners, the final outcome of the training was a great success.

Participants received information and instruction on: Indian Child Welfare Act, History of Tribal Courts and Jurisdiction, Dependency Cases, Concepts in Civil Procedures, Anatomy of a Civil Case, Trial Procedures, Fairness in Civil Cases, Evidence Issues, Judicial Independence, Professional Responsibility and Mediation. Instructors were Jasmine Andreas, Mark Vezzola and Dorothy Alther from CILS; Pat Lenzi, Washoe Prosecutor and Pat Sekaquaptewa from TLCEE & TNI. Participants were provided with a Training Manual with power points and information regarding all of the courses along with copies of Bishop Ordinances, Washoe Constitution and Court Rules and Titles.

Participants from Bishop Tribe & Washoe Tribe

second place was Kristopher Hohag, third place was Teri Cawelti, both from Bishop, CA. Certificates of Completion are being prepared by the TLCEE and will be mailed to each court for distribution to participants.

The next step for the Bishop participants will be to take a Lay Advocate Test, which is currently being developed specifically for the Bishop Tribal Court. Once they pass the test they will be eligible to apply to the Bishop Tribal Court to practice as a Lay Advocate.

Bishop Paiute Tribal Court had 25 applications from individuals interested in this training. We could only select 7 individuals; the Court Advisory Committee reviewed all applications and had a very difficult time selecting only 7 participants; they also selected 3 alternates. Because of the overwhelming interested we had, we are planning to have another Lay Advocate training in late 2011 or early 2012.

At the end of the last day of training a jeopardy game was played. Questions (Answers) were taken from the material covered during the three days of training. The first place winner was Charlene Dressler from Fernley NV;

Jasmine Andreas, Instructor; Shiela Turner, Participant and Jennifer Leal, Washo Court Clerk

ARTICLE BY THE FAMILY VIOLENCE PREVENTION FUND

8 Ways You Can Coach Boys into Men

Teach Early. It's never too soon to talk to a child about violence. Let him know how you think he should express his anger and frustration - and what is out of bounds. Talk with him about what it means to be fair, share and treat others with respect.

Be there. If it comes down to one thing you can do, this is it. Just being with boys is crucial. The time doesn't have to be spent in activities. Boys will probably not say this directly - but they want a male presence around them, even if few words are exchanged.

Listen. Hear what he has to say Listen to how he and his friends talk about girls. Ask him if he's ever seen abusive behavior in his friends. Is he worried about any of his friends who are being hurt in their relationships? Are any of his friends hurting anyone else?

Tell Him How. Teach him ways to express his anger without using violence. When he gets mad, tell him he can walk it out, talk it out, or take a time out. Let him know he can always come to you if he feels like things are getting out of hand Try to give him examples of what you might say or do in situations that could turn violent.

Bring it up. A kid will never approach you and ask for guidance on how to treat women. But that doesn't mean he doesn't need it. Try watching TV with him or listening to his music. If you see or hear things that depict violence against women, tell him what you think about it. Never hesitate to let him know you don't approve of sports figures that demean women, or jokes, video games and song lyrics that do the same. And when it comes time for dating, be sure he knows that treating girls with respect is important.

Be a Role Model. Fathers, coaches and any man who spends time with boys or teens will have the greatest impact when they "walk the walk." They will learn what respect means by observing how you treat other people. So make respect a permanent way of dealing with people—when you're driving in traffic, talking with customer service reps, in restaurants with waiters, and with your family around the dinner table He's watching what you say and do and takes his cues from you, both good and bad. Be aware of how you express your anger. Let him know how you define a healthy relationship and always treat women and girls in a way that your son can admire.

Teach Often. Your job isn't done once you get the first talk out of the way. Help him work through problems in relationships as they arise. Let him know he can come back and talk to you again anytime. Use every opportunity to reinforce the message that violence has no place in a relationship.

Become a Founding Father. Show him how important the issue of violence against women and children is to you. Join thousands of men across the country who are taking a stand against violence. Become a Founding Father yourself Sign up today!

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT UPDATE

BY SETH BARLOW, PUBLIC WORKS DIRECTOR

Here is a brief summary of the current projects that Public Works has going on right now as well as coming up.

- Water Well Drilling Project – Drilling secondary water wells at each of the existing well sites, Winuba, Siebu, and Pa Me. Purpose of the project is to provide a backup well at each site. Work is almost complete and should be wrapped up in the next couple of weeks. Work is being done by outside contractor through IHS.
- Road Bores – New water lines will be bored under the road at Coyote Mtn. and at Brockman and Line St. These bores will be to install new waterlines to replace the aging lines that are there currently. This project is currently out for bids and construction is expected in November. Funding is from a 2008 ICDBG grant.
- COSA Native Fish Refuge Project – Public Works is assisting EMO in the construction of a Native Fish Pond in the COSA area. The first portion of work will be to rehab the drainage and irrigation system from behind Toiyabe all the way to the pond site behind the Forest Service building. This work will be done by Tribal Forces starting middle of October. Funding is from a Bureau of Reclamation ARRA grant.

- Sewer and Water As-built Project – Public Works staff is in the process of putting together maps for the final as-built maps. Surveyors from Triad Holmes along with Public Works crews began recording the precise location of all sewer and water lines and incorporating them into the master Tribal map. This work will be ongoing for the next 6-9 months.
- Roads Project – Still awaiting approval to proceed from BIA. We also have received an award for additional ARRA funding for road maintenance. The hope is to do all of the road work concurrently to maximize the funding and get the most amount of road work done at once. Likely these road projects will begin in spring of 2011 and continue into fall of 2011.

- Bus Shelters – Grant money received from the FTA to install Bus Shelters for Dial-a-Ride service. Locations of the Bus Shelters will include, Toiyabe, Casino, TANF, Coyote Mountain, and DMV. Tribal crews will begin installing these shelters this fall and complete by the spring of 2011.
- New Winuba Tank and VFD and Pa Me VFD Booster Pumps – This project involves placing a new water storage tank and VFD booster pump at the Winuba well site as well as a new VFD booster pump at the Pa Me tank site. This project will begin next spring. Completion by fall of 2011. This project is funded by IHS and will be contracted out.

If anyone has any questions or concerns about any of these projects please let me know.

Thanks,

Seth Barlow
Public Works Director

All applicants must fill out a new application every six months and will receive a proof of enrollment card from TERO. Once in the Job Skills Bank, participants must check-in with TERO once a week by phone or in person. Also, new applicants are asked to fill out a TERO Needs Assessment which helps the TERO Office plan on training based on needs. Contact the TERO Office at 270 See Vee Lane to sign up or call (760) 873-7893 if you have any questions.

NEWS FROM THE EDUCATION CENTER

BY SHAWN BENGOCIA, EDUCATION DIRECTOR

We hope that everyone had a great Thanksgiving and didn't get too cold. As students return to school after a week off there will be three weeks until Christmas break. For the high school it marks the end of the Semester and for everyone it is the beginning of a two week break. Junior high semester ends on January 14, 2011. Liaisons Ann Keller, Cindy Cox, Kelly Coleman, and Vivian Piper, as well as Education Center Staff are working hard to ensure that students are getting the help they need and staying on track. We hope all students have a good break, but work hard until the break.

A look at recent standardized test scores indicate that our students are making excellent progress in math, however Language Arts improvement in scores is slow. It will take effort and desire by students, good teaching by school district staff and support from programs like ours. It will take everyone involved in the education business to move students into proficient and advanced levels - including you (encourage students).

The standardized test levels where students are ranked include: far below basic, below basic, basic, proficient and advanced.

We believe that our students perform much better throughout the year than what the standardized test indicates, however it is what is used and it is what is measured. In short, there has been progress made and there is progress to be gained. Keep pressing forward. We hope everyone has a great Christmas and New Year's holiday - and read with your children.

Bishop Indian Education Center

STUDENTS TRAVEL

Several high school students have had the opportunity to explore various educational conferences this 2010 Fall semester with the Bishop Indian Education Center's Youth Activities Specialist, Vincent Townsend. Our primary goal with educational field trips is to provide our Native American students an opportunity to experience the atmosphere and feel of educational outlets and to foster the needs unavailable within our immediate community. These types of trips will enhance and provide students with realistic visions of higher education, programs, and opportunities that Native American students can succeed into beyond high school.

This year, students were able to participate at the National Indian Education Conference (NIEA) 41st Annual Convention in San Diego, CA on October 7-10, the American Indian Science & Engineering Society (AISES) 'Power Up' Conference in Albuquerque, NM on November 11-13, and the National Congress of American Indians (NCAI) 67th Annual Convention in Albuquerque, NM on November 14-17.

Students who participate in any of the conference trips have to fulfill the needed requirements including; a minimal GPA, a one-page Essay on 'How can college help in my future?', participate in an Educational/Family Formation Workshop (in-school), have satisfactory attendance, have participated in a type of Civic Engagement (volunteer time), and have a good citizenship status at both the high school and the BIEC.

AISES CONFERENCE

Students Lavaree Chavez, Tssiuvvu Dewey, Katie Keller-Manuelito, Sage O'Dell, and Cheyanne Renfro, along with Chaperone Lisa Keller, had been able to attend the AISES Conference in Albuquerque, NM. They were able to participate in the campus tour of the University of New Mexico, the AISES Pre-college Track with other high school students, and the prestigious AISES Career Fair, the largest career fair in Indian Country.

firstbloom

The second year of the First Bloom program is well underway. In September our group kicked off the program by participating in the 2010 California Indian Day Parade. With Clifford (the Big Red Ford) pulling a willow float and parade-ready participants, we placed 3rd in the Organizational Float category! That same weekend we traveled to Adobe Valley for National Public Lands Day where we learned about native and invasive plants, archaeological sites and being stewards to our lands. In October our group worked to maintain our Native Plant Garden at the Cultural Center. In November we were introduced to aspects of Death Valley National Park through literacy activities and games, because that is where we will be camping on our December field trip! The Park Rangers will be providing a modified version of their Death Valley Rocks program. Our itinerary is full and we are excited!

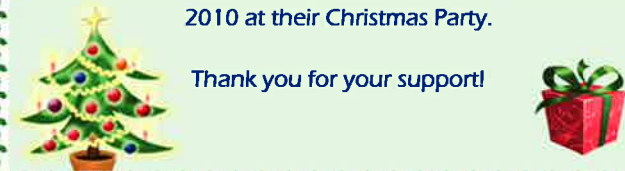

The First Bloom Program is a partnership program with Bishop Paiute Tribe and Devils Postpile National Monument, funded by the National Park Foundation. This year we are working with the Bishop Paiute Tribe Education Center, the Owens Valley Career Development Center Tuniwa Nobi Family Literacy and the Pine Street Elementary Tribal Liaison programs to keep the First Bloom program strong and successful.

GAS STATION UPDATE

BY RHONDA WILLIS, GAS STATION MANAGER

Happy Holiday's

Another year coming to an end so soon. Time seems to fly when you are busy. This year has gone by so fast. We have been very blessed to have stayed steady in this slow economy. We have slowed a little now that the weather has changed but it won't last long with the snow on the mountains and the holidays approaching. We have had a few changes. In April we put in new pumps and registers. Along with that came the headaches of working with new software. As most of you know that can sometimes be a nightmare. The new gas card program seems to be working fine for the most part. However, if you have an older card and it is not working then please let me make you a new one. Just ask the cashiers for a replacement application and fill it out. Once I receive it then it usually takes about a week for them to work. If you turned in receipts when the gas cards were not working then please check with the cashiers to see if you have money coming back. You will need proof of tribal gas card number and an ID. Please be prepared when asked because we may not all know who you are. My Staff and I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for coming in and giving us the privilege to serve you and we look forward to a new year.

Wishing you and yours A Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Rhonda Willis, Manager and Bishop Paiute Gas Station Staff
